THE NEW DEFINITION OF PUBLIC HEALTH WITH THE NEW ROLE FOR W.H.O - DO THE CHANGES SERVE THE INTERESTS OF OUR NATIONS AND CITIZENS OR THOSE OF SPECIFIC INTEREST GROUPS?

What direction is the reform of public health taking? The trust in public health has been shaken at its roots... for a reason. With no comprehensive, independent review of the impact of the emergency actions related to the pandemic conducted so far - despite of the controversies surrounding the solutions implemented by organisations and institutions at global, regional, and national levels - we strive to address the question where public health is heading. How can segregation of duty be ensured with public-private funding overtaking the space of protection and representation of the interest of our citizens.

Dr. Maryl Nass, Ph.D. David Bell and Dr. Kat Lyndlay

THE LEGAL UNCERTAINTIES OF THE EUROPEAN JUDICIAL INSTITUTIONS AND THE LEGAL FRAMEWORK THAT ENABLED THE PANDEMIC CRIME

Transparency and accountability are key pillars of our democratic societies. The actions that dictated and enabled the pandemic came with great ambiguities in the legal sphere at the global, European, EU and national levels. Practices that go against basic principles of legislative foundation of democratic societies are settling in day by day through countless reforms and changes. Legal experts will provide the overview and voice their concerns, and these changes would require social debates, decisions, and full transparency.

With Renate Holzeisen, Todd Chalander, Philipp Kruse

DIGITAL TRANSFORMATION OF THE FINANCIAL SYSTEMS AND THE POTENTIAL CONSEQUENCES

Digitalisation (Digital ID, Currency, etc.) is on its way. The agreement by EU countries has been reached to proceed with European Digital ID in Europe as the foundation stone for the digital financial system. What are the implications? How does the Central Bank Digital Currency differ from the system we have in place today? What dangers and advantages (if any) does the implementation of the Central Bank Digital Currency bring us?
